

Many different conditions have been treated successfully, including: Back, shoulder, neck problems and coffin joints: Wound healing, pastern, navicular and sore shins.

These treatments have been used successfully in all equine disciplines including: Racehorses, young stock, trotters, show jumpers, dressage, polo, eventing etc. with amazing results.

The results from clinical trials, university research departments and other sources are currently being scientifically evaluated and collated.